Governance

From the Chairperson

This is the Board's eighteenth Annual Report to the Minister and my first as Chairperson.

Since 2015, the Board has been critically reviewing policies and processes governing various aspects of its functioning. This activity was triggered not by the emergence of any particular crisis, but because after fifteen years since the HPCA Act (2003) was introduced, the Board wishes to ensure that its functions remain relevant to the needs of today's community. In the year covered by this report the Board completed and adopted the recommendations of a comprehensive review of the processes and pathways to registration. The recommendations reflect changes in aspects of both local and international training and practice. It has also been possible to consider how the recognition of psychology qualifications relates to international developments in regulation, especially in Australia where an examination of competence has been introduced for all internationally qualified applicants. The process of Implementing of the review's recommendations has been underway since August 2017, and we believe the outcome will be a set of processes and procedures that are easier to follow, whilst safeguarding competence to practice.

Another review was undertaken into the Board's model of governance, delegation of duties, and potential configuration of staffing needed to implement the Board's responsibilities as effectively and efficiently as possible. The governance review will be concluded by the end of 2018, using an external expert to review the functioning of the Board itself, identify any difficulties in carrying out its duties and responsibilities, and recommend options for addressing those issues.

The Board's membership has been stable for several years, resulting in a Board that understands its role in governance and works very well together. However, changes will be required in the near future. Eight of the Board's nine members (six psychologists and three lay members) have terms that expire during 2018. Two members will no longer eligible for reappointment as they will reach the end of their third consecutive term. This brings an opportunity for new members to join the Board. The remaining six members with terms expiring this year, have each served one or two terms, and all are available for reappointment. The Board wishes to achieve a balance between welcoming new members bringing energy and commitment, whilst ensuring stable membership as it guides the organisation through a period of change. This will assist in the decision-making and if a transition to new models and frameworks occurs, will provide stability and consistency ensuring that we are fulfilling our legislative mandate.

The profession is still growing steadily, with just over 3,000 psychologists holding practising certificates. However, Māori and Pasifika psychologists are still under-represented. In order to address this and other future workforce issues, the Board is a participant in the Psychology Workforce Task Group (PWTG, chaired by Dr John Crawshaw, Director of Mental Health at the Ministry of Health), a group that includes representatives from professional associations, universities, and major employers. The PWTG is actively working to understand future workforce needs and formulate plans to address the predicted gap in capacity and capability due to increasing demand for psychology services. The findings of the Government Inquiry into Mental Health and Addiction are expected to form a focus for activity as the Task Group considers any recommendations on the workforce needed to implement the changes needed to improve mental health in Aotearoa.

Operations

Board meetings

Agendas and supporting documents are prepared for each Board meeting and minutes record all formal proceedings. A quorum of five members, including at least one layperson, is required for the Board to transact business. All members are required during meetings to declare any conflicts of interest with agenda items, and a Declaration of Interests Register is maintained for all Board members and senior staff. The Board normally meets four times in each financial year, though brief teleconferences can be held where an urgent matter arises between meetings.

Board meeting dates during the 2017/2018 reporting period

- 24 &25 May 2017
- 23 & 24 August 2017
- 13 & 15 November 2017

Fees paid to Board Members

The Board Chairperson is paid $140 per hour, the Deputy Chairperson $130 per hour, and Board members $120 per hour. These rates have been unchanged since 1 April 2015.

The Secretariat

The Board has delegated these functions (and the requisite authority to carry them out) to the CE and Registrar, the Accreditation Committee, and the Parts 3 and 4 Committee. This greatly facilitates robust, consistent, timely, and efficient decision-making processes in regard to registration, competence, health, and disciplinary matters.

As signalled in the previous report, a Deputy Chief Executive and Deputy Registrar role was added to the secretariat structure and an appointee in place from 1 May 2017.

Part 2 of the HPCA Act: Registration and practising certificates

Scopes of practice

The Board has taken a very broad, flexible approach to defining scopes of practice for the profession, thereby minimising any workforce impediments. All psychologists hold the "Psychologist" scope, which includes the foundational, core competencies common to all branches of the profession. The Board has also established "vocational" scopes, but only where they are clearly required for public protection. Within their scope of practice a psychologist is free to practise in any area in which he or she is personally competent. The public are also able to readily identify those practitioners who have completed specialised training in Clinical, Counselling, or Educational Psychology or Neuropsychology. In accordance with section 11 of the HPCA, the Psychologists Board has prescribed the following scopes of practice and associated qualifications:

"Psychologist" – A psychologist within a general scope is defined as rendering or offering to render to individuals, groups, organisations, or the public any psychological service involving the application of psychological knowledge, principles, methods, and procedures of understanding, predicting, ameliorating, or influencing behaviour, affect, or cognition. Such practice is undertaken within an individual's area and level of expertise and with due regard to ethical, legal, and Board-prescribed standards.

The following qualifications are prescribed for registration as a Psychologist in the general scope of practice;

A minimum of a Masters degree in Psychology from an accredited educational organisation, or an equivalent qualification. Eligibility for a general scope of practice requires a Board approved practicum or internship involving 1500 hours of supervised practice.

"Intern Psychologist" – An intern psychologist within a special purpose scope is defined as rendering or offering to render to individuals, groups, organisations or the public any psychological service involving the application of psychological knowledge, principles, methods and procedures of understanding, predicting, ameliorating or influencing behaviour, affect or cognition. Such practice is undertaken within an individual's area and level of expertise and with due regard to ethical, legal, and Board-prescribed standards.

An Intern Psychologist scope of practice may be granted to applicants;

Who have completed formal academic studies that have provided them with the foundation competencies required for safe practice in a supervised internship setting and who are enrolled in a Board-accredited post graduate diploma or doctoral course of studies.

"Trainee Psychologist" – A trainee psychologist within a special purpose scope is defined as rendering or offering to render to individuals, groups, organisations or the public any psychological service involving the application of psychological knowledge, principles, methods and procedures of understanding, predicting, ameliorating or influencing behaviour, affect or cognition. Such practice is undertaken within an individual's area and level of expertise and with due regard to ethical, legal, and Board-prescribed standards.

A Trainee Psychologist scope of practice may be granted to applicants:

Who have completed formal academic qualifications that have provided the foundation competencies required for safe practice in a supervised setting and who are entering boardapproved supervised practice for the purpose of achieving full registration.

"Clinical Psychologist" – Clinical psychologists apply psychological knowledge and theory derived from research to the area of mental health and development, to assist children, young persons, adults and their families with emotional, mental, developmental or behavioural problems by using psychological assessment, formulation and diagnosis based on biological, social and psychological factors, and applying therapeutic interventions using a scientist-practitioner approach. Such practice is undertaken within an individual's area and level of expertise and with due regard to ethical, legal, and Board-prescribed standards.

The following qualifications have been prescribed for registration as a Psychologist in the Clinical Psychologist scope of practice;

A minimum of a Masters degree in Psychology from an accredited educational organisation and an accredited Postgraduate Diploma in Clinical Psychology, or equivalent qualification. Eligibility for the Clinical Psychologist scope of practice shall require a Board approved practicum or internship involving 1500 hours of supervised practice.

"Counselling Psychologist" – Counselling psychologists apply psychological knowledge and theory derived from research to the area of client empowerment and enhancement, to assist children, young persons, adults and their families with personal, social, educational, and vocational functioning by using psychological assessments and interventions, and preventative approaches that acknowledge ecological, developmental and phenomenological dimensions. Such practice is undertaken within an individual's area and level of expertise and with due regard to ethical, legal, and Board-prescribed standards.

The following qualifications have been prescribed for registration as a Psychologist in the Counselling Psychologist scope of practice;

A minimum of a Masters degree in Psychology from an accredited educational organisation and an accredited Postgraduate Diploma in Counselling Psychology, or equivalent qualification. Eligibility for the Counselling Psychologist scope of practice shall require a Board approved practicum or internship involving 1500 hours of supervised practice.

"Educational Psychologist" – Educational psychologists apply psychological knowledge and theory derived from research to the area of learning and development, to assist children, young persons, adults and their families regarding their learning, academic performance, behavioural, social and emotional development, by using psychological and educational assessments and applying interventions using systemic, ecological and developmental approaches. Such practice is undertaken within an individual's area and level of expertise and with due regard to ethical, legal, and Board-prescribed standards.

The following qualifications have been prescribed for registration as a Psychologist in the Educational Psychologist scope of practice;

A minimum of a Masters degree in Psychology¹ from an accredited educational organisation and an accredited Postgraduate Diploma in Educational Psychology, or equivalent qualification. Eligibility for the Educational Psychologist scope of practice shall require a Board approved practicum or internship involving 1500 hours of supervised practice.

A Masters degree in Education may be considered equivalent to a Masters degree in Psychology where its content is sufficiently educational psychology in nature.

"Neuropsychologist" – Neuropsychologists apply scientific understanding of the relationship between the brain and neuropsychological function within applied clinical contexts. This approach forms the basis for the assessment, formulation, and rehabilitation of people who have sustained brain injuries or other neurological conditions. Neuropsychologists work with people of all ages who have neurological problems such as traumatic brain injury, stroke, epilepsy, toxic and metabolic disorders, brain tumours, and neurodegenerative diseases. Such practice is undertaken within an individual's area and level of expertise and with due regard to ethical, legal, and Board-prescribed standards.

The following qualifications have been prescribed for registration as a Psychologist in the Neuropsychologist scope of practice;

A minimum of a Masters degree in Psychology from an accredited educational organisation and an accredited Postgraduate Diploma in Neuropsychology, or equivalent qualification. Eligibility for the Neuropsychologist scope of practice shall require a Board-approved practicum or internship involving no less than 1500 hours of supervised practice.

Accreditation of training programmes

The HPCA requires the Board to prescribe the qualifications required for each scope of practice within the profession, and to accredit and monitor educational organisations and courses of studies. Therefore, working in collaboration with the relevant university Heads of Departments, the New Zealand College of Clinical Psychologists, the New Zealand Psychological Society, and representatives of the "supervision-to-registration" schemes, the Board has developed a comprehensive set of standards and procedures for accreditation of qualifications leading to registration as a psychologist.

These standards ensure that the training and practice of psychologists in Aotearoa New Zealand reflect the paradigms and worldviews of both partners to Te Tiriti o Waitangi. Furthermore, and keeping with our obligations under the Treaty (which are also reflected in the Code of Ethics for Psychologists Working in Aotearoa New Zealand 2002), the accreditation standards and procedures require consideration of the adequacy of training programmes for meeting the needs and aspirations of both Treaty partners.

The Board wishes to foster the continuing growth and vitality of psychology as a science, an academic discipline, and as a key component of New Zealand's health workforce. We therefore strive to implement the requirements of the HPCA Act without impeding the strength and diversity in the discipline, while attending carefully to the competencies required for the safe and ethical practice of psychology. The Board conducts its accreditation processes collaboratively with the training programmes in order to minimise duplication and redundancy with other review processes and in a positive and constructive manner.

During the year to 31 March 2018, eight programmes were at some stage in the accreditation process, from applying for accreditation assessment, to Board's Accreditation Committee reviewing Accreditation Assessment Team reports for moderation, proposed or final decisions. The Board's Accreditation Committee met four times during the reporting period.

One programme was accredited in the reporting period, and a new programme (Auckland University of Technology's Post-Graduate Diploma in Rehabilitation Psychology), was granted provisional, pending a comprehensive assessment once its first cohort of students have completed the programme.

The Board wishes to thank the all the members of the profession who have served on Assessment Teams or volunteered their time as a member of the Board's Accreditation Committee over the reporting period.

Registration

Registration process

The Psychologists Board does not require applicants to sit any special assessment or examination beyond those completed as part of their academic (including practical) qualifications. The consideration of applications is done by the Registrar under delegation and as a result the application process is very quick, efficient, and consistent. The Board has prescribed and published a set of decision-making guidelines to facilitate the Registrar's processing of applications for registration. These guidelines include mechanisms that further facilitate the assessment process for overseas applicants who have previously been registered by a competent authority recognised by the Board. Trans-Tasman Mutual Recognition Act (TTMRA) applications and applications from New Zealand graduates are consistently processed within two days. Close monitoring has shown that our registration processes are effective, efficient, timely, and fair, and they have also proven to be very robust in the face of (infrequent) legal challenges.

The Board writes to new registrants to encourage them to undertake training in the Treaty of Waitangi and bi-cultural relations. They are also provided with a copy of the bilingual "Code of Ethics for Psychologists Working in Aotearoa/New Zealand [2002]" and copies of the most recent Board Newsletter and Annual Report.

The Board registered 281 new practitioners in 2017/2018, including 116 overseas trained practitioners and 165 NZ trained practitioners.

Neuropsychologist Scope of Practice

The Board introduced a new scope of practice in 2017, with a grandparenting pathway available for psychologists already registered who have particular formal education and experience in this area. Twenty-eight psychologists had attained the neuropsychologist scope by 31 March 2018.

Annual practising certificates

In order to lawfully practise as a psychologist in New Zealand, a practitioner must be registered with the Psychologists Board and must hold a current practising certificate. Further, all psychologists on the Register must hold a current practising certificate at any and all times they are practising within the scope of psychology, even if they are practising under some other title. [Refer sections 7 & 8 of the HPCA Act 2003].

The Board asks that practitioners renew their Annual Practising Certificate (APC) and update their details online via our website. This is the primary route for renewals, which helps reduce costs and increases efficiency.

Part 3 of the HPCA Act: Competence and fitness to practise

Overview

The Board has delegated almost all decision-making under Parts 3 and 4 of the HPCA to its "Parts 3 & 4" Committee ("the Committee"). The Committee provides efficient screening, consideration, and determination of complaints, competence, and fitness matters, in accordance with administrative law, legislative requirements, and Board policy. Its membership includes three Board members, three members of the Secretariat, and one external member. Most of the Committee's business is conducted by email, but a teleconference or face-to-face discussion may be held when decision-making is challenging.

Performance

The HPCA enables the Board to review the competence of a psychologist when there is reason to believe that the psychologist's competence may be deficient and/or if the Board receives a notice of concerns as outlined in section 34 of the Act. In such circumstances the Committee appoints two respected senior psychologists to review the psychologist's competence. Should this 'Competence Review Panel' find that the psychologist is not meeting the required standards of competence, then that information is considered by the Committee. Possible outcomes of a competence review include orders for a competence programme, conditions on the practitioner's scope of practice, an examination or assessment, or that the practitioner be counselled. For example, there may be a requirement that the practitioner practise only under Board-approved supervision or only in a specified setting.

The Board also receives competence notifications from Professional Conduct Committees after a complaint is investigated, through a section 8o(2)(e) pathway and orders for oversight supervision from the Health Practitioners Disciplinary Tribunal, through section 1o1(1)(c).

Of the new competence notifications received:

- One $34 notification was received from another Health Practitioner about a psychologist colleague. Because the concerns raised were in relation to an assessment contracted by the Family Court which was still "in process" within the court, that review was placed on hold to avoid impacting the Family Court process.
- The Committee referred one complaint to a competence review. The Competence Review Panel subsequently evaluated the psychologist as meeting the required standards of competence.
- A Professional Conduct Committee (PCC) investigated a complaint and recommended the practitioner undergo a competence review. This review resulted in "No further action" after a finding the psychologist is competent.

- Two further PCCs investigated complaints and recommended each psychologist be counselled. Both counselling interventions were conducted within the period covered by this Annual Review.
- The Committee referred a complaint to a PCC for investigation. The psychologist who was the subject of the complaint appealed the Committee's decision to the Board. The Board overturned its delegate's decision and instead ordered a competence review. The psychologist removed herself from the Register and so it remains a review "yet to be assessed" until such time that the psychologist applies for restoration to the Register.

There were also competence matters still in process at the beginning of the 2017/18 year:

- Two competence reviews ordered in a previous period concluded. In both cases competence programmes were ordered, in accordance with section 38.
- Two Health Practitioners Disciplinary Tribunal orders that the practitioner undertake a period of remedial supervision were in place on 1 April 2017. By 31 March 2018, one had concluded whereas one remained active.

The Board would like to thank all those psychologists who assisted the Board by servicing on Competence Review Panels or acting as supervisors on Competence programmes in the 2017/18 year.

Continuing competence

Consistent with the principal purpose of the HPCA, to "protect the health and safety of members of the public by providing for mechanisms to ensure that health professionals are competent and fit to practise their profession", the Psychologists Board must be satisfied that a practitioner is competent to practise in New Zealand before being registered and, in accordance with sections 26 and 27, that he or she has maintained the required standard of competence before being issued an APC. Since 2009 the Board has prescribed a Continuing Competence Programme (CCP) as part of its endeavours to meet its obligations under the Act. The dual objectives of the CCP are to provide a framework to assist individual practitioners to address the ongoing challenge of maintaining competence, while also giving the Board a mechanism to support and ensure that practitioners maintain competence. All actively practising psychologists are required to participate in the CCP and to declare they have done so when applying to renew their APC each year.

A random audit of 20% of all APC applications is completed each year and has (to date) demonstrated high levels of compliance with the CCP.

Fitness to practise

Fitness concerns: Inability to perform required functions due to mental or physical condition

No new fitness notifications were received by the Board in period covered by this report.

However, four psychologists were monitored due to fitness notifications and assessments in previous periods. Three psychologists had conditions on their Annual Practising Certificate (APC) that they must only practise with Board approved supervision. One psychologist was required to undertake a period of treatment before an APC could be issued. Treatment was still in process at the close of this reporting period.

Part 4 of the HPCA Act: Complaints and discipline

Overview

As already noted, the Board has delegated the management and consideration of complaints to the Parts 3 and 4 Committee, "the Committee". There were 64 complaints considered by the Committee during this reporting period, including 32 still in process from the previous reporting period and 32 new complaints.

Four new PCCs were initiated and five more PCC investigations were managed during the reporting year.

Complaints against Family Court report writers continue to feature prominently in the statistics (Table 8 provides details on the source of complaints). Complaints arising from the preparation of reports for the Family Court or under other Family Court contracts also tend to have a long duration. This is primarily because the Court and the Board have a policy agreement that the Board will only consider the complaint after the Court processes have been completed, or are at a stage where the Court considers it appropriate to proceed. This policy aims to discourage potential complainants from attempting to use the Board's complaint processes as a way of unfairly influencing the Court's process. More information about the management of complaints against Family Court Specialist Report Writer can be found in the Family Court's Practice Note for Specialist Report Writers4).

Complaints

Complaints Process

Psychologists are always informed immediately if a complaint against them is received. The matter is then referred to the Health and Disability Commissioner (HDC) if a health consumer is involved, and if relevant to the Family Court. Once these agencies have considered the complaint, the Board's process ensues.

The psychologist is asked to respond to the complaint; this response is then forwarded to the complainant for further comment. This submission is usually forwarded in full, but the psychologist may make a case to justify withholding information, in accordance with the Privacy Act and Health Information Privacy Code. The complainant is then invited to make further comments in the light of the psychologist's response. Where a complaint relates to a report prepared for a third party such as the Family Court or ACC, a copy of the report may be requested.

The complaint and all relevant materials are then considered by the Committee. Possible outcomes include to refer to a PCC for investigation, refer to a competence review, refer to another agency, or to take no further action with or without issuing an advisory letter. A complaint is considered closed when the committee decides to take no further action, when it becomes a competence matter, or when a PCC report is received and actioned.

 $^{^{4}}$ Revised, the relevant version for the reporting year being as at 6 October 2016. This sets out various processes and procedures agreed by stakeholders form the requirements for appointment of specialist report writers to the Family Court, through to management of complaints.

Decisions on complaints considered in 2017/2018

In Table 6 "outcomes" refers to complaints that have been considered by the Committee. Complaints are typically considered after the matter has been assessed by the Health and Disability Commissioner (where appropriate) and the Family Court, if relevant.

No complaints were referred to the Health Practitioners Disciplinary Tribunal (HPDT).

Source of new complaints received

Complaints about psychologists undertaking third party reports continued to dominate, with 19 of 32 new complaints in that category. This includes reports written for the Family Court, the Parole Board and ACC. Third party reports may also be involved in the private practice and other categories, for example when a report is prepared for disability sector agency.

The complaints from other sources are varied, reflecting allegations about ethical breaches and competence concerns.

The Board would like to thank all those who assisted the Board by serving on PCCs in the 2017/2018 year.

Health Practitioners Disciplinary Tribunal

There were no matters before the Health Practitioners Disciplinary Tribunal in 2017/18.

Appeals and reviews

During the year the Board received and considered (in accordance with section 18 of Schedule 3 of the Act) five applications to review decisions made under delegation by its Part 3 and 4 Committee.

- In the case of two applications the Board confirmed its delegate's decision to take no further action against three psychologists (one complaint being against two practitioners).
- In two further cases the Board confirmed that no further action would be taken to investigate the complaint but added an advisory letter.
- In the fifth case the Board revoked the Committee's decision to refer the matter to a PCC for investigation, and ordered that the psychologist be referred to a competence review

The Board also undertook reviews of three Registrar's decisions made under delegation to decline registration. The Board upheld its delegate's decisions in all cases.

There were no appeals under s.106 of the Act.

Linking with stakeholders

Overview

The Board continued to guide the profession through its newsletters and the development of "Best Practice Guidelines". Eight guidelines had been published on our website prior to the reporting period:

Guidelines on Unprofessional Behaviour and its Management in the Workplace

Supervision Guidelines

What to do when you have Concerns about another Psychologist

Keeping Records of Psychological Services

The Practice of Telepsychology

The Use of Psychometric Tests

Maintaining professionalism when using social media networking

Guidelines on Informed Consent

A further guideline "Coping with a Client Suicide" was published in August 2017.

Psychology workforce

Workforce development continues to be a major strategic focus for the Board. We continue to meet with key stakeholders, including quarterly with the Psychology Workforce Group and, more recently, with the Ministry of Health's "Psychology Workforce Task Force".

Linking with owners and stakeholders

The Psychologists Board actively maintained its website, and published twice-yearly newsletters, which routinely includes a section on lessons learned from complaints. It held regular meetings with various stakeholder groups.

The Board's website remains the first port of call for both New Zealand and overseas-trained practitioners seeking information about registering as a psychologist in New Zealand, and includes information on accredited training programmes, the Board's Continuing Competence Programme, and returning to practice. It also provides information for practitioners on current consultations, recent news and developments, Board processes, and upcoming events (e.g., public meetings).

The Board sends a copy of its Annual Report to the New Zealand Psychological Society (NZPsS), the New Zealand College of Clinical Psychologists (NZCCP), the HDC, various government departments/agencies, other RAs, District Health Boards, universities, all financially current psychologists, and the Psychology Board of Australia. The most recent report is also supplied to all new registrants at the time of registration.

Psychologists Board representatives routinely attend the annual conferences of the NZPsS and NZCCP to inform and consult with practitioners regarding topical issues such as the development of best practice guidelines, the colocation of secretariats and the development of shared business services, the (ongoing) review of the HPCA Act, the CCP, and lessons to be learned from recent competence and complaint notifications. The Board also meets at least quarterly with representatives of the NZPsS, the NZCCP, Heads of Department of the various psychology training programmes, and DHB Professional Leaders to provide a forum for discussion of matters of mutual concern (e.g., workforce development).

The Board continues to place particular emphasis on linking with stakeholders and owners. In the reporting year it met with representatives from the Ministry of Health and Health Workforce New Zealand and presented to interns at several accredited training programmes.

Promoting the safe practice of psychology in the Asia-Pacific Region and beyond

The Board continued its close and mutually beneficial relationships with the Psychology Board of Australia (PsyBA), taking the opportunity to hold a joint meeting this year to discuss topics of mutual interest. The Boards continue to operate under our longstanding MoU (which aims to facilitate mutual recognition of the regulatory environments in Australia and New Zealand, promote communication and information exchange between our organisations, develop (where possible) common processes and standards, and thereby facilitate the movement of psychologists between our two countries).

The Board also continued its links with the (North American) Association of State and Provincial Psychology Boards (ASPPB) and continued to build and maintain stronger ties to regulators in Europe and in the Asia-Pacific region. These links help inform our policies and practices and enhance our understanding of international standards and trends in accreditation, regulation, and workforce matters that can improve our systems and (especially) our consideration of overseas applications for registration.

The Board's Chief Executive and Registrar continued as a member of the Working Group for the International Project on Competence in Psychology (IPCP).

HRANZ collaborations

The Health Regulatory Authorities New Zealand (HRANZ) collective continue to work collaboratively with the Operational Group continued to meet. Also, the new grouping of "RA Partners" worked together consistently, enhanced by our colocation to offices on Willeston Street.

Prescribed fees and levies

There were no changes to existing fees or levies in 2017/18. However, fees were introduced for applications for the new Neuropsychology Scope of practice. There are contingencies for these applications to be assessed in three stages if necessary, however, to date no assessments have been deemed necessary beyond Stage 1. These new application fees are highlighted in Table 8 below.

For several years the Board has collected a disciplinary levy, payable in conjunction with an application for a practising certificate of a specified type. In Table 8 below, practising certificate application fees and the associated disciplinary levies are shown together for ease of reference, along with the total paid by the applicant.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE READERS OF NEW ZEALAND PSYCHOLOGISTS BOARD PERFORMANCE REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 MARCH 2018

The Auditor-General is the auditor of the New Zealand Psychologists Board. The Auditor-General has appointed me, Philip Pinckney, using the staff and resources of Staples Rodway Audit Limited, to carry out the audit of the performance report of the New Zealand Psychologists Board on his behalf.

Opinion

We have audited the performance report of the New Zealand Psychologists Board on pages 2 to 11, that comprise the entity information, the statement of financial position as at 31 March 2018, the statement of financial performance, the statement of movements in equity and statement of cash flows for the year ended on that date and the notes to the performance report that include accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion the performance report of the New Zealand Psychologists Board on pages 2 to 11, present fairly, in all material respects:

- the entity information,
- its financial position as at 31 March 2018; and
- its financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended; and
- comply with generally accepted accounting practice in New Zealand and have been prepared in accordance with Public Benefit Entity Simple Format Reporting - Accrual (Public Sector).

Our audit was completed on 5th September 2018. This is the date at which our opinion is expressed.

The basis of our opinion is explained below. In addition, we outline the responsibilities of the Board and our responsibilities relating to the performance report, and we explain our independence.

Basis of opinion

We carried out our audit in accordance with the Auditor-General's Auditing Standards, which incorporate the Professional and Ethical Standards and International Standards on Auditing (New Zealand) issued by the New Zealand Auditing and Assurance Standards Board. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Responsibilities of the Auditor section of our report.

We have fulfilled our responsibilities in accordance with the Auditor-General's Auditing Standards.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of the Board for the performance report

The Board is responsible for preparing the performance report that is fairly presented and that complies with generally accepted accounting practice in New Zealand.

The Board is responsible for such internal control as it determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the performance report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

STAPLES RODWAY AUDIT LIMITED INCORPORATING THE AUDIT PRACTICES OF CHRISTCHURCH, HAWKES BAY, TARANAKI, TAURANGA, WAIKATO AND WELLINGTON

In preparing the performance report, the Board is responsible on behalf of the New Zealand Psychologists Board for assessing the Board's ability to continue as a going concern. The Board is also responsible for disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting, unless there is an intention to liquidate the New Zealand Psychologists Board or to cease operations, or there is no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board's responsibilities arise from the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003.

Responsibilities of the auditor for the audit of the performance report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the performance report, as a whole, is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit carried out in accordance with the Auditor-General's Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements are differences or omissions of amounts or disclosures, and can arise from fraud or error. Misstatements are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the decisions of readers taken on the basis of the performance report.

We did not evaluate the security and controls over the electronic publication of the performance report.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Auditor-General's Auditing Standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. Also:

- We identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the performance report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- We obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Board's internal control.
- We evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the governing body.
- We conclude on the appropriateness of the use of the going concern basis of accounting by the Board and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the New Zealand Psychologists Board's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the performance report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the New Zealand Psychologists Board to cease to continue as a going concern.
- We evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the performance report, including the disclosures, and whether the performance report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the Board regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Our responsibility arises from the Public Audit Act 2001 and section 134(1) of the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003.

Independence

We are independent of the New Zealand Psychologists Board in accordance with the independence requirements of the Auditor-General's Auditing Standards, which incorporate the independence requirements of Professional and Ethical Standard 1 (Revised): Code of Ethics for Assurance Practitioners issued by the New Zealand Auditing and Assurance Standards Board.

Other than the audit, we have no relationship with, or interests in, the New Zealand Psychologists Board.

STATEMENT OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES

BASIS OF PREPARATION

The Board is a body corporate established by the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003 and is a Responsible Authority under that Act.

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice in New Zealand (NZ GAAP) and have been prepared on the basis of historical cost.

The Board has elected to apply PBE SFR-A (PS) Public Benefit Entity Simple Format Reporting – Accrual (Public Sector) on the basis that it does not have public accountability and has total annual expenses of equal to or less than $2,000,000. All transactions in the Performance Report are reported using the accrual basis of accounting. The Performance Report is prepared under the assumption that the entity will continue to operate in the foreseeable future.

SPECIFIC ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Income recognition

Fees received for the issue of APCs and register maintenance are recognised in the year to which the fees relate. All other fees are recognised on receipt.

Receivables

Receivables are stated at estimated realisable values.

Property, plant & equipment

Initially stated at cost and depreciated as outlined below. Initial cost includes the purchase consideration plus any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition required for its intended use.

Assets are written down immediately if any impairment in the value of the asset causes its recoverable amount to fall below its carrying value.

Intangible Assets

Intangible Assets comprise non-physical and nonfinancial assets which have a benefit to the Board for periods extending beyond the year the costs are incurred.

Depreciation

Fixed Assets are shown at original cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation has been calculated over the expected useful life of the assets at the following rates:

Office Furniture18.0% Diminishing valueOffice Equipment1.2% - 40.0% Diminishing valueComputer Equipment48.0% Diminishing valueLeasehold Alterations5 years Straight line

Amortisation

Websites and Databases have a finite useful life. The Website and Database are capitalised and amortised over their currently estimated useful life of 5 years on a straight line basis.

Database & Website 5 years Straight line

Taxation

The Board is registered as a charitable entity under the Charities Act 2005. The Board is exempt from Income Tax.

Investments

Investments are recognised at cost. Investment income is recognised on an accruals basis where appropriate.

Goods & Services Tax

The board is registered for Goods & Services Tax (GST), and all amounts are stated exclusive of GST, except for receivables and payables that are stated inclusive of GST.

Leases

Payments made under operating leases are recognised in the statement of financial performance on a basis representative of the pattern of benefits expected to be derived from the leased asset.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes petty cash, cheque account and saving account with banks.

Employee entitlements

Provision is made in respect of the Board's liability for annual leave at balance date. Annual leave has been calculated on an actual entitlement basis at current rates of pay. No provision is made for sick leave entitlement as this does not accumulate.

Changes in accounting policies

All other policies have been applied on a consistent basis with those used in previous years.
